CALL FIRST

713-221-5400

Call before you drive, every time.

THE BOP'S OWN PAPERS DISAGREE. The Houston handbook (May 1, 2026) and the visiting rules (August 24, 2026) disagree on a few points. Weekend hours: the handbook says Saturday and Sunday visits run to 2:00 p.m.; the newer rules say 1:30 p.m. Money: the handbook says up to $25 per family for vending machines; the rules say $20. Number of visits: the rules give 6 points a month at 2 points a visit (3 visits); the handbook does not give a count. The table above follows the newer rules. Call 713-221-5400 before you drive, especially on a weekend.[1]

BEFORE YOU GO: GET ON THE LIST

1. Your loved one gives their unit counselor a Request for Visitor Approval (Attachment B of the visiting rules for pretrial and holdover inmates; Attachment C for work cadre and designated short-term women). Your loved one also gets a Visitor Information Form (BP-629) from their unit team.
2. The unit team mails the BP-629 to you. Fill it out and return it to the Counselor.
3. The counselor runs a background check (NCIC) on every visitor. A visitor with a criminal record needs the Warden's written approval. Approval normally takes about 7 days after the center has everything.
4. The counselor gives your loved one a copy of the approved list. They tell you. Do not drive until you are approved. If you are denied, your loved one is told, and they must tell you.
5. The rules put no limit on how often the list can change.
6. You are normally on only one person's list, unless you are in the same immediate family.[1]

AT THE DOOR

WHO CAN VISIT	People waiting for trial and holdovers: immediate family only (mother, father, stepparents, foster parents, brothers, sisters, spouse and children). Work cadre men and designated short-term women can add up to 10 other relatives or friends. A live-in partner who is not a legal spouse can be approved if there is proof, such as a lease, driver's licenses with the same address, or shared utility bills.[1]
SCREENING	Everyone must clear the metal detector. Remove hairpins and anything metal. If you have a metal implant, bring your medical card. If you refuse a search, you cannot come back to visit without approval from the Associate Warden of Programs. Visitors are also tested at random with an electronic drug detection unit in the lobby.[1]
WHAT YOU CAN CARRY	Only: your ID; cash up to $20 per family and/or a debit or credit card for the vending machines; necessary medicine such as an asthma inhaler (the officer keeps it); and baby items. Baby items: one pacifier, two diapers, five wipes, one clear bottle or sippy cup with contents, and one infant blanket, all in one clear one-gallon zip bag. No other bags.[1]
LOCKERS AND PARKING	A limited number of lockers are available, first come first served. The handbook says there is no visitor parking at the center, and cars parked around it can be towed.[2]
TOUCHING	A handshake, brief embrace and brief kiss at the start and end of the visit. They may hold their children. Visitors sit across from them. Nothing may be passed in either direction, and papers cannot be signed.[1]
MONEY	You cannot hand over money in the visiting room. Money for their account goes by mail to the BOP lockbox in Des Moines (see the Money tab).[1]
RESTROOM	They normally cannot use the restroom during a visit unless it lasts more than one hour.[1]
VENDING MACHINES	Only visitors use them, with cash or a card. Anything bought for them must be eaten in the visiting room.[1]
WHEN IT GETS CROWDED	The visiting room holds 179 people. Staff first ask for volunteers to leave. If that is not enough, visits end in the order they started.[1]
SEX OFFENSE INVOLVING A MINOR	People convicted of a sex offense involving a minor sit in an area near the officer's station for the whole visit.[1]
