THE BOP'S OWN PAPERS DISAGREE. Duluth's two papers are old and disagree. The visiting rules (November 30, 2022) say Saturday, Sunday and federal holidays, 8:15 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., with no one entering after 2:30 p.m. The handbook (February 2012) says Saturday, Sunday, Monday and federal holidays, 8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Go by the newer rules, but call 218-722-8634 before you drive. The 2022 rules also cite an older national visiting policy.[1]

BEFORE YOU GO: GET ON THE LIST

1. Your loved one asks their unit team in writing (an Inmate Request to Staff or the visitation request form) which immediate family to add. They give name, relationship, birth date, address, phone and Social Security number.
2. The unit team mails you the approved list and the visiting room guidelines through your loved one. Do not drive until you are approved.
3. Non-family visitors must have known your loved one before prison, unless the Warden approves. They cannot visit until the forms and an NCIC check are done.
4. The list holds up to 24 visitors. A married couple counts as two. Children under 16 do not count toward the 24.
5. A visitor can be on only one Duluth inmate's list unless the Warden approves. Family members who are both at Duluth can share the same family.
6. Adding or removing visitors can be requested every six months. Someone removed cannot be put back for six months.
7. Someone transferred from another prison must list the names of previously approved visitors again, or those visitors may be delayed or denied.[1]
