THE BOP'S OWN PAPERS DISAGREE. The Phoenix visiting rules (PHX 5267.09a, March 1, 2019) say the FCI has visiting on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and federal holidays, allow $25.00 in coins for the vending machines, and give SHU inmates one hour on Mondays. The FCI handbook (October 2025) lists FCI visiting on Saturday and Sunday, says up to $20.00 in coins, and gives the SHU a maximum of 2 hours on Monday. The handbook is newer. Call 623-465-9757 before you drive on a Monday or a holiday, and ask what the vending machine limit is.[1]

BEFORE YOU GO: GET ON THE LIST

1. Right after arrival they fill out a list of proposed visitors and give it to their counselor. Their immediate family (mother, father, step-parents, foster parents, brothers, sisters, spouse, children) is approved for 28 days so there is time to finish the paperwork.
2. They mail the visitor form, BP-A0629 (Visitor Information), to each person. Every proposed visitor, family included, mails it back to the unit team for a background check (NCIC). If immediate family do not send it within the 28 days, they come off the list until they do.
3. The list holds up to 20 visitors. Attorneys, ministers of record and children under 16 do not count toward the 20.
4. They must have known you before prison. Exceptions need the Warden's approval, usually only for people who have no other visitors.
5. Unit staff tell them if you are approved, and they tell you. Do not drive until you are approved.
6. Pretrial and holdover inmates (the Yuma unit) may be visited only by immediate family, and only after 28 days. They ask in writing on an Inmate Request to Staff Member, and the Unit Manager approves each visit.
7. Transferred from another federal prison? The old list is recognized, but visitors may be asked for a new form if the one on file is more than 5 years old.
8. Camp: they ask for new visitors at least 3 weeks ahead.[1]

AT THE DOOR

SCREENING	FCI visitors clear a metal detector and can be searched. A visitor who has a medical reason for not clearing it must give medical papers to the counselor in advance. Some visitors are picked at random for the ION drug scanner. The camp handbook says camp visitors can also be pat-searched or have their car searched, and those who decline cannot visit that day.[2]
MONEY FOR VENDING MACHINES	The 2019 rules say a see-through coin purse (no bigger than 9 by 9 inches) with $25.00 or less in coins, no dollar bills. The 2025 FCI handbook says $20.00 in coins. You cannot put money on their account in the visiting room. Inmates may not go near the vending machines.[1]
WHAT YOU CAN CARRY	The clear coin purse, life-essential medication, and for a baby a clear diaper bag with two diapers, one unopened pack of wipes, two clear baby bottles, two small store-bought sealed baby food jars and one receiving blanket. No strollers. FCI visitors may use the lockers in the front lobby (a limited number, for people dropped off); put car keys in the locker and keep the locker key with you. There are no lockers at the camp.[1]
NOT ALLOWED IN	Cell phones, pagers and other electronics, purses and bags, food, gum, candy, children's toys, pictures, letters, packages, gifts, watches, hats and ball caps. No pets (a service animal needs approval from the Associate Warden of Programs first).[1]
WHAT NOT TO WEAR	No shirtless, sleeveless, backless or halter tops, bodysuits or bare midriffs. No shorts (children 12 and under may wear them). No bathing suits, sweatpants or jogging suits. Skirts and dresses must be knee length or longer, with no side slits. No see-through or skin-tight clothing. No open-toe shoes or bare feet. Avoid khaki (the FCI inmate color) and dark green (the camp inmate color). Jackets and coats are allowed when the weather needs them. Staff make the final call.[1]
TOUCHING	A kiss and an embrace only at the start and end of the visit. At the FCI: no hand-holding or other contact; children under 8 may sit on the inmate's lap. At the camp: hand-holding is allowed, nothing more. Staff assign seats; the inmate sits across from the visitors.[1]
WHAT THEY WEAR	FCI inmates wear khaki pants and shirt and black boots (SHU inmates an orange jumpsuit). Camp inmates wear green pants and shirt.[1]
WHEN IT GETS CROWDED	Staff ask for volunteers to end their visit early, and ask visitors who traveled the shortest distance. If that is not enough, it is first in, first out.[2]
LEAVING	Once a visitor leaves, the visit is over for the day and they cannot come back in. FCI visitors are escorted out of the visiting room on the hour and half hour only.[1]

GETTING THERE

From the north or the south	Take I-17 to exit 225 and turn west. Follow the road about two miles to the institution. The satellite camp is directly across from the sign that says you are entering federal property. For the FCI, turn left at that sign and go about 300 yards to the main entrance. Park in the visitor lots on the south side of the parking lot, not in the staff lot.
The address	The BOP lists the physical address as 37900 N 45th Avenue, Phoenix, AZ 85086. Phone 623-465-9757. Local transport in the 2019 rules: Sky Harbor Airport taxi service 480-966-8294, Greyhound 800-231-2222.

WHAT TO WEAR TO A VISIT
